Contents of Volume XLII

ARTICLES Page

The Democratic and Whig Political Activists of Middle Tennessee
By Carrol VanWest 3
Albert Roberts, Journalist of the New South, Part I
By James Summerville 18
How Say You, Senator Fowler?
By Walter T. Durham 39
Lynch Law and the Great Clarksville Fire of 1878: Social Order in a New South Town
By Richard P. Gildrie 58
Agrarianism and Populism in Tennessee, 1886-1896; An Interpretative Overview
By James Tice Moore 76
Beersheba Springs and L. Virginia French: The Novelist as Historian
By Hershcel Gower 115
John Fitzgerald: Presidential Image Maker for Andrew Jackson in 1823
By Robert P. Hay 138
Return Jonathan Meigs: Tennessee's First State Librarian
By Ronnie W. Faulkner 151
The Old Anderson Road: Lifeline to Chattanooga
By Patricia L. Hudson 165
Albert Roberts, Journalist of the New South, Part II
By James Summerville 179
Good Times: Vacationing at Red Boiling Springs
By Jeanette Keith Denning 223
The General, the Secretary, and the President: An Episode in the Presidential Campaign of 1828
By Michael Birkner 243
John Christmas McLemore: 19th Century Tennessee Land Speculator
By Marvin Downing 254
Benjamin Franklin Cheatham: The Early Years
By Timothy D. Johnson 266
From Reconciliation to Reconstruction: Lincoln, Johnson, and Tennessee, Part I
By Peter Maslowski 281
Military Hospitals in Memphis, 1861-1865
By Patricia M. LaPointe 325
From Reconciliation to Reconstruction: Lincoln, Johnson, and Tennessee, Part II
By Peter Maslowski 343

Robert R. Church, Jr. of Memphis: Black Republican Leader in the Age of Democratic Acendancy, 1928-1940
By Roger Biles 362
Senator Estes Kefauver and the 1956 Minnesota Presidential Primary
By Philip A. Grant, Jr. 383
Editor's Page 2, 114, 222, 324
Recent Books 95, 203, 299, 393
Historical News 110, 217, 315, 406
Index to Volume XLII 409